Pratt, secretary of the associathe persons in whose company I was found on the 28th instant I would state that the family is eminently proper, and that the disgraceful conduct was caused by a pauper who was given a home by well-meaning people. Respectfully, FRANK VIVIAN.

That, Secretary of the association, yesterday afternoon for the purpose of holding a conference with the officers of the National Capital Bell Telephone Company to adjust the existing differences between the subscribers and the company. After waiting nearly two hours for the company to send a representative a message was received, stating that, owing to a misunderstanding, the company's officers would not beable to attend the conference, and requesting a postponement. The executive committee thereupon decided to give the company one more opportunity to be heard in its own behalf, and that if a satisfactory arrangement could not be agreed upon to call on the subscribers to "plug" their instruments to-morrow morning. In defense of this the committee stated that according to the pledge adopted at the 7th of February meeting no discretionary powers were conferred upon them after the 1st of The Foreign Malls for the week ending SATURDAY, April 2. 1881, will close at this office on TUESDAY at 230 a. m. for Europe by steamship Wyoming via Queenstown; on WEDNESDAY at 3 a. m. for Europe by steamship Marathon via Queenstown (correspondence for France must be specially addressed), and at 2 p. m. for France direct by steamship France via Havre; on THURSDAY at 230 a. m. for Europe by steamship Republic via Queenstowa (correspondence for Gramany and France must be specially addressed), and at 11:30 a. m. for Europe by steamship Lessing via Plymouth. AMUSEMENTS. The Joseffy Concert, "Marie Stuart," Forepaugh's Circus, &c.

The concert at Lincoln Hall last night was the most remarkable in a neusical point of view that has been held this season. The audience was by no means commensurate, so far as numbers were concerned, with either the reputation of the performers or the excellence of the programme presented. Mr. Joseffy is by far the best pianist that has been heard in this country since Von Bulow. His first selections from Bach showed his marvelously pure and sharply-defined execution, and the applause which followed showed that he was appreciated. His second was a Schumann number, and, though it afforded Mr. Joseffy an opportunity to display his superb technique, it failed to touch the audience, as it contained little of the melody that wins the general hearer. In his final numbers he evidenced in the fullest degree his complete mastery of the plano. Not less celebrated as an artist, more known as a composer, is Mr. Georg Henschel. His rich, full baritone has in it a wealth of sympathy, pathos, and power that touches the heart and holds the listener completely captive. In every number he was loudly applauded, while at the conclusion of his thrilling execution of Schuman's "Two Grenadiers" the applause was almost deatening, and he was obliged to answer the enthusiastic encore. Miss Lillian Bailey (Mrs. Georg Henschel) possesses a pleasant, well-cultured voice, though lacking in power, and she rendered her numbers acceptably, especially two songs, "O Hush Thee, My Babe" and "Sing Heigho," of her husband's composition, which called forth a decided encore. It is to be hoped that this combination of genuine artists may be again heard in Washington before the JANAUSCHEK-" MARIE STUART."

Madame Janauschek presented her powerful impersonation of "Mary Stuart" at Ford's Opera-House, last night, to a highly cultured and appreciative audience. She has been seen in this role before, and her masterly interpretation of Scotland's injured Queen has been fully extolled. In her performance last night she displayed fully as great power and genius as she has heretofore shown, and she held her audience spell-bound.

Dedlock and Hortense in " Bleak House." FOREPAUGII'S CIRCUS. Among the attractions offered by Mr. Forepaugh are the Selbini and Villion troupe of gymnastic bicyclers, who will turn sommersaults, form pyramids, and perform every act done in a circus-ring on bieyeles, propelled at full speed; Ruila, the walker on the wire, and Loyal, the mar-meteor, who is blown from a cannon; two woolly elephants, which are the greatest zoological wonder of the age, twenty-two trained stallions, and other marvels too numerous to mention.

Mr. J. Louis Ford, who has labored hard for the success of the Opera-House this season, and who is withal a most pleasant and genial gentleman, says he will offer as attraction for his benefit "Olivette." in which will be introduced musical selections from "Billee Taylor."

The entertainment at the Congregational Church on Friday night will include in its attractions Miss Minnie Ewan, Mrs. Powell, Mr. Dean, Mr. Smith, and Miss Janie Savage, an elocutionist of considerable repute from Boston.

WAR DEPARTMENT CLERKS. Those Who Are to be Dropped-Judge

Noah and His Commission. The statement that under the revision tually discharge all clerks appointed from June The set of harness stolen from Mr. | 30, 1880, to March 3, 1881, created quite a breeze yesterday among those who would be affected by such action. It can be stated, however, that the number of clerks to be dropped will probably not exceed fifteen in both the Adjutant-General's and the Surgeon-General's Offices. This number will be made up entirely from those who have been found inefficient and whose records indicate their unfitness for clerical duty. The main effect of this revision will be to abrogate the grading for the pay of these clerks established by Judge Noah and to fix their pay at the rate prescribed in the appropriation bill. The discontinuance of the commission headed by Judge Noah and the relegation of the matter of appointments to the supervision of the chief clerk is another change to be made under Robertson, not because he is distasteful to Mr. William E. Chandler. The rumors from Washington indicate that Hon. William E. Chandler's nomination as Solicitor-General gives such umbrage to Attorney-General MacVeagh that the latter gentleman contemplates resigning his seat in the Cabinet in case Mr. Chandler is confirmed. It is to be hoped this will not prevent Mr. Chandler's confirmation; and President Garfield certainly need not be greatly dismayed if Mr. MacVeagh should carry out his threat of retirement. There would be an easy and very generally acceptable way out of the difficulty by the appointment of Mr. Chandler to the Attorney-Generalship, and the tender of the subordinate post to some other well-qualified gentleman. Mr. Chandler would certainly be in all respects equally and in some respects better fitted for the post of Attorney-General than Mr. MacVeagh. As a lawyer his reputation is high among lawyers, and deservedly so. Naturally a keen, penetrating, and far-seeing man, his legal acumen has made him the trusted conferee of many of the foremost him the trusted conferee of many of the foremost dria, has been appointed chief engineer of Genlawyers of the day in cases of the most grave and eral Gordon's new railroad that is to be built from delicate nature. "Public Opinion." To the Editor of The Republican

The Tribune quotes from the St. Paul Pioneer Press as follows: "All thoughtful American citizens will rejoice at the appointment of Judge Conkling," &c. Now, I venture to affirm that that is the precise reason why the Pioncer Press rejoices. This paper has for years, for reasons unknown to me, pursued Senator Conkling with a venomous hostility only matched by that of the New York Sun toward General Grant. One could scarcely take up a copy of the paper without finding some gratuitous slur, some far-fetched fling at the Sena-tor. Let this be borne in mind when the Pioneer Press is quoted with the Utica Herald as "public opinion" respecting Senator Conkling.
